

The Leadership Development Series

Spring 2010
Alpha Class

For more information about this workshop series, call 412.342.5402

For more information on the African American Leadership Association, visit www.aala.webs.com

This three-session workshop series, offered in cooperation with the African American Leadership Association (AALA), will provide African American and minority professionals as well as students with the information and skills necessary to achieve and maintain leadership positions. Topics covered include stress and time management, financial management, the history of mentorship and leadership in the African American community, and the concept and role of the “servant leader.” Interactive discussions and relevant assignments will better equip participants to fulfill current responsibilities and set and achieve their goals. This series is designed for both current and aspiring leaders.

Standing on the Shoulders—March 2, 2010

This workshop covers the history of mentorship and leadership in the African American community and “Leadership 101”

Life & Work Balance—April 6, 2010

This workshop covers stress and time management as well as financial management

Legacy—May 4, 2010

This workshop covers servant and community leadership as well as “Mentorship 101”

Workshop hours: 1:00PM–4:00PM

CCAC–Allegheny Campus, 808 Ridge Avenue

Tom Foerster Student Service Center (SSC), Room 314

Cost:

$90 AALA Members

$125 Non-AALA Members

*Checks should be made payable to:
Poise Foundation/AALA*

Payments are accepted the first day of class

CCAC

African American
Leadership Association