About the Program

The Decennial Census is something that we are familiar with, but its importance is at times overlooked. It is more than just a simple counting of every person within the United States of America. The 2010 Census will play an important role in the amount of federal funds that get distributed for hospitals, schools, job training centers, and many more social services for our communities.

In March of 2010 census forms will be delivered to every resident in the United States. Our discussion will center on the importance of getting these forms filled and its effects on businesses, non-profit organizations, and our communities. It is imperative that our communities are accurately counted so we can receive the necessary resources from the federal government.

About the Speaker
